

Privacy

At Voyage, we are committed to protecting the privacy of users of our sites. Set out below is our policy regarding information we receive from the users of this website.

We currently use cookies on this website but only to collect basic user information for the purposes of producing aggregated statistics on the usage of the site.

Unless you have given your consent, none of the data that we obtain will be provided to third party organisations in anything other than aggregate statistical form. It is not our policy to pass on personal information about our users to third parties unless you have given your consent.

All data collected from users is protected against unauthorised access. As required by the Data Protection Act 1998, we follow strict security procedures in the storage and disclosure of information that you have given to us, in order to prevent, as far as possible, any unauthorised access. However, due to the nature of the medium, we are unable to provide any guarantee that information stored by us will not be subject to unauthorised access.

By using our site you consent to the collection and use of information gathered by Voyage through the site. Please leave the site immediately if you do not agree to this.

In the event that we decide to change our policy, we will post these changes on this page so that you can be aware of what information we collect, how we use it and when we disclose it.
